Practice Overview:

Reflecting his dual qualification as a barrister and as a surveyor, David's experience in property matters is both broad and practical.

His legal practice concentrates on property and construction litigation including boundary disputes; landlord and tenant work in residential, commercial and agricultural contexts, as well as matters arising from development agreements and loan security.

David has represented local authorities and landowners at planning inquiries and in planning enforcement litigation.

In addition to his tenancy at Albion he is a Director of Savills (Chartered Surveyors) where his surveying specialisation in affordable housing valuation and consultancy also gives him a particular insight into voluntary and public sector housing operational and regulatory issues. David is also a Chartered Environmentalist.

Public Access:

David Cotterell is licensed to accept work under the Public Access rules. Click here for further details about the Public Access scheme.
